

Aptify®

Configurable, flexible membership management platform for large associations and unions

For large associations and unions

Aptify by Community Brands is a membership management solution built for international organizations, large associations, and unions. It's a developer-friendly platform, ideal for organizations with large IT staff that seek modern, configurable technology with a guaranteed upgrade path.

Built on a scalable, flexible technology platform

Designed to handle complex membership and dues structures

Ideal for organizations that seek control over system development and upgrades

Take control of your membership management software.

Developer focus

Highly configurable system built on Aptify's Rapid Application Development (RAD) platform.

Plugin-based architecture, app containers, and open documentation make it easier for developers to build applications for your organization's specific needs.

Upgrade, add modules, and stay on the cutting edge without ever needing to re-build the core system.

Modern technology

Friendly, "mobile-first" look and feel, with web-based interfaces for staff and members.

Even non-technical staff can run reports, create dashboards, and manage member data.

Drag-and-drop process automation tools and centralized member data make it easy to save staff time and deliver a better member experience.

Enterprise approach

21 out-of-the-box applications in one system to meet the entire organization's needs.

Deep expertise in multi-lingual set-up as well as implementation of global currency, taxes, and merchant accounts for international organizations.

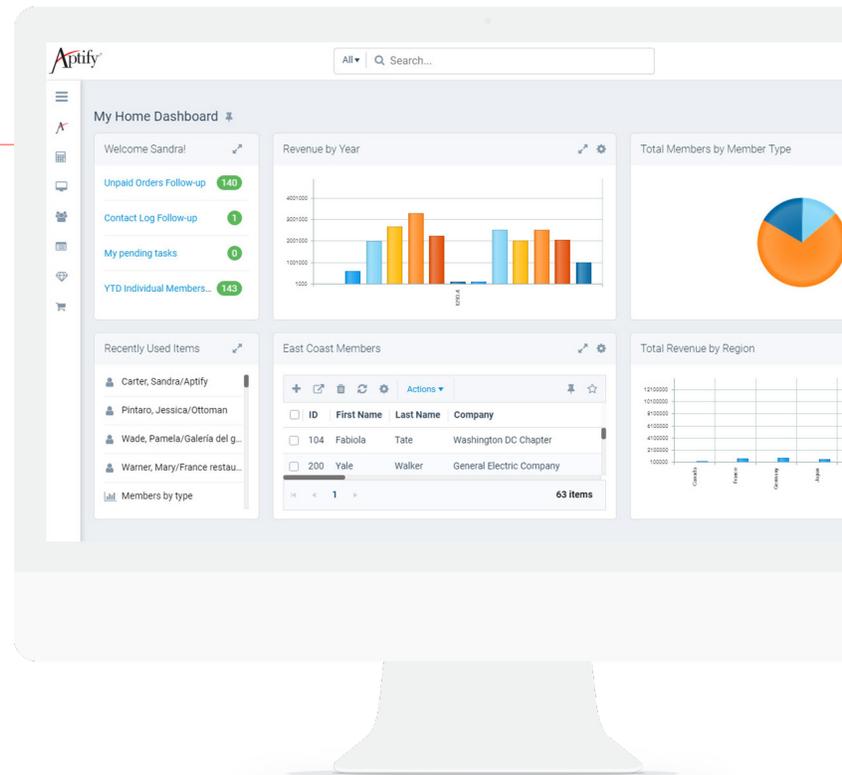

Continually evolving solution keeps pace with modern technology and the member-based industry, so it grows with you.

THE ONLY AMS TRUSTED BY ASAE.

"I don't think of Aptify as a technology provider. I think of Aptify as a partner, helping me get my organization's work done. (...) It really does feel like a partnership."

Reggie Henry

Chief Information Officer
American Society of Association Executives
