Enhance Learner Experience with Online Communities

A supportive and collaborative learning community helps students acquire and retain knowledge, instilling a sense of belonging and camaraderie which keeps students engaged and motivates them to persevere toward achieving their goals.

Removing barriers to learner participation, by eliminating time wasted navigating between systems, allows you to enhance the critical social learning aspects of your education, certification, or mentoring programs for your members and learners with integrated online communities.

“Higher Logic has worked with WBT Systems to build one of the most comprehensive integrations between online learning communities and an LMS to date. This two-way information flow between TopClass LMS and Higher Logic will allow organizations to track and analyze community engagement metrics and learner data together to gain greater understanding of member needs and behaviors in these learning communities.”

Enrich learning programs with real-time connection to your online community

Develop unified learning experiences across your learning and online community platforms.

Go beyond basic integration to simplify and enhance real-time participation and collaboration for learners.

Single Sign On

Learners are able to move easily between their online community and LMS thanks to Single Sign On functionality that shares user information and permissions from Higher Logic to TopClass LMS, removing the need for learners to re-enter their login information, and automatically creating an account in TopClass LMS if none exists.

Activity Write Back

TopClass LMS writes learner data and activities back to Higher Logic when a course is completed or when credits or certificates are earned. Once written to Higher Logic, these learning activities can be shown on a user's profile and can be used with Higher Logic's automation rules to award ribbons, send emails, or add users to communities. (*Activity Write Back from TopClass LMS to Higher Logic requires the Higher Logic Activity Sync module.)

Real-time Conversations for Social Learning

Allow learners to fully participate in specific Higher Logic online communities that are linked to a course in TopClass LMS. Learners will be able to see and reply to all postings in linked communities in real-time, from within their course in TopClass LMS. Use this feature to add social learning opportunities and facilitate group discussions, team work, peer networks, and mentoring in your education programs.

Community and Learning Where You Are

Enhance connectivity to professional networks and learning communities. Regardless of whether learners are signed into their LMS or online community platform, the integration will eliminate the need for navigation between systems. Display a feed of the latest posts from Higher Logic communities using a widget embedded in the learner dashboard in TopClass LMS or embed a TopClass course widget in your community homepage. This integration ensures both learning and community are at your fingertips, wherever you are.
